

HWA EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Senior Geologist/Environmental Engineer

Are you looking for a challenging, supportive, and flexible work environment with competitive benefits, and the support and freedom to succeed?

HWA GeoSciences Inc., a geotechnical/geoscience firm located in Bothell, Washington, seeks a senior geologist or environmental engineer. Duties include:

- Technical project work
- Project management
- Business development
- Staff training/mentoring

A qualified applicant should have a minimum 15 years of experience, MS in geology, hydrogeology, or environmental engineering, LG, LHG, or PE registration, and have practiced in the Pacific Northwest. In addition to proven leadership and business development skills, candidates should have technical competency in some or all of the following areas:

- Hazardous waste
- Site investigation and cleanup
- Regulatory compliance
- Site remediation
- Environmental engineering

Any specialized expertise within this range of skills, coupled with proven client focus, project management, leadership, and business development skills, could lead to management and ownership opportunities at HWA for the right person.
